TOTAL	493,024,345	(3,085,483)	489,938,862

Narrative Explanation:

Since personnel services is the largest portion of the University's expenditures, this area would have to be decreased to meet the reduction. While every attempt would be made to ensure a quality education to our students, any reduction in funds would adversely impact enrollment at the University. Layoffs could possibly occur which would result in fewer course sections offered, reduction in library hours, reduction in services offered to students, as well as decreased recruitment and student success initiatives. Therefore, it is crucial that we are fully funded this fiscal year. The loss of state appropriations the past few years has vastly changed the composition of the University's core faculty and has also negatively impacted our long term strategic plan.

Since personnel services is the largest portion of the University's expenditures, this area would have to be decreased to meet the reduction. While every attempt would be made to ensure a quality education to our students, any reduction in funds would adversely impact enrollment at the University. Layoffs could possibly occur which would result in fewer course sections offered, reduction in library hours, reduction in services offered to students, as well as decreased recruitment and student success initiatives. Therefore, it is crucial that we are fully funded this fiscal year. The loss of state appropriations the past few years has vastly changed the composition of the University's core faculty and has also negatively impacted our long term strategic plan.

A 3% reduction could result in the loss of faculty. In addition, the loss would have a negative impact on the operational costs for the academic programs.

The University is below average on instructional funding compared to its peer institutions. Additional reductions in general support would greatly affect the quality of instruction provided.

Because instruction is the core mission of the University, it would be our highest priority to preserve quality and content in this area, even in the event of a reduction in state appropriations. The instructional function directly and indirectly generates approximately 80% of core educational and general revenues and more than 50% of total operating revenues. As such, it is often a better course of business to enhance instructional expenses rather than reduce expenses which may negatively impact service or quality, leading to unintended reductions in other revenue streams.

Efficient practices are continually considered for this functional area and consequently create better returns on investment. These practices include such things as year-round semesters and intersessions to fully utilize existing square footage, creation of career track faculty positions that focus only on instruction, and the extension of class times into nights and weekends.

Narrative Explanation:

A reduction in non-sponsored research would effectively negate the priorities established for the fiscal year.

The research component of the University is primarily funded from sources other than general state support. Reductions within this area would be contained within administrative areas, exclusive of the mandatory compliance and oversight functions necessary for federal compliance.

Narrative Explanation:

A 3% loss could result in the elimination of assistance to communities for economic development.

A decrease in budget intended for outreach and public service would undermine one of the most important missions of a land grant institution and impact the economic development of the state.

The public service component of the University is primarily funded from sources other than general state support. Reductions within this area would be contained within administrative areas.

The loss of state appropriations the past few years has vastly changed the composition of the University's core faculty and has also negatively impacted our long term strategic plan.

A 3% reduction could result in the reduction of library services and instructional technology.

Improving student access is a key element in providing a trained workforce for economic development in Mississippi. Gains in student access in turn require the institution to devote additional resources to improve retention and graduation rates, especially in the first generation students and at-risk populations. A decrease in academic support would negatively impact these students.

Reductions in academic support would first focus on travel, commodities, and equipment, but there are many areas that would be prioritized to maintain stability and service to students. For instance, academic advising programs, academic deans, and library support would only take reductions if sufficient reductions could not be made in other areas. For the same reason, prioritization of programs and uses may lead to areas where operations are severely curtailed or ceased.

A 3% reduction could result in the loss of counseling and health services for students.

A decrease in student services would be detrimental to the learning and success of our students. Research has shown that student engagement in educationally purposeful activities outside the classroom is critical in the success of the student.

Many of the activities and programs within the student services area are either externally mandated, or reductions would place the institution at a competitive disadvantage in the recruitment of students. Therefore, the enactment of a three percent reduction in state appropriations would be focused on reductions in operating spending categories (travel, contractual services, commodities, equipment) rather than reductions in programs or services.

A 3% reduction could result in the loss of support staff and the decrease acquisition of technical equipment.

Accountability is important to the institution and to the people of Mississippi. Reductions in this program would hamper the university in implementing and maintaining key elements in assessments of controls and policies.

A three percent reduction in state general funds would first focus on spending categories (travel, contractual services, commodities, equipment) and secondarily on program prioritization.

The loss of state appropriations the past few years has vastly changed the composition of the University's core faculty and has also negatively impacted our long term strategic plan.

A 3% reduction could result in the loss of maintenance workers and preventative maintenance services.

The area of maintenance has suffered drastically. The result of additional reductions would necessitate additional deferral of maintenance.

The University operates and maintains approximately 6 million square feet of space with an estimated replacement value exceeding $2 billion, over 15 miles of streets and drives, approximately 15,000 parking spaces, over 600 acres of landscaping, the Oxford-University Airport, a domestic water system, a wastewater treatment facility, a network of high-voltage electrical infrastructure, as well as many other forms of infrastructure. A three percent reduction in state appropriations would be enacted by searching for budget components that have the least impact on customer service, our ability to deliver utilities, and avoiding the devastating impact the creation or acceleration of deferred maintenance would cause. We will continue our search and investment in opportunities that accrue savings within the area of utility consumption. We have been able to achieve a 21% decrease in overall intensity of use over the last ten years. While additional savings are increasingly harder to achieve, opportunities still exist.
